

North Shore Female Ice Hockey
Return to Hockey Plan 2020-2021 Season

Version 1 - August, 2020

Overview

- The North Shore Female Ice Hockey Association (NSFIHA) recognizes that life is different, as a result of Covid-19 (coronavirus).
- Although the province of BC continues to “open up”, the 2020-21 hockey season will undoubtedly be different.
- Our intention is to communicate what we expect will be different, based on the information available, and communicate the added steps we are taking in concert with our partners (including the facilities we use) to:
 - Mitigate risk to participants, volunteers, and coaches
 - Invest in player development
 - Foster a love of the game and continue to grow the game in our communities
- Until COVID-19 is either eradicated, a vaccine is developed, or a cure is found, there is no way of completely eliminating the risk of infection.
- The 2020-21 season will not be possible without the support, commitment and patience of participants, volunteers, and coaches.

Our Mission is the same

- We are committed to providing young females an opportunity to play competitive or recreational ice hockey in a safe and enjoyable environment.
- We are committed to providing a fun and enriching experience
- Our top priority is the health and safety of participants.
- We recognize the importance of hockey and the Avalanche community to participants (players, families, volunteers, and coaches).
- Your feedback and involvement is key to the advancement of our program.

Communication Officer

- Andrew Smyth, President NSFIHA, will be our point person should anyone within the Avalanche family test positive for Covid-19, suspect they may have Covid-19, or have questions pertaining to the following Covid-19 Illness Policy.
 - The Communication Officer will share relevant public health updates during the season and communicate on a regular basis with our arenas about their guidelines and updates.
 - The Communication Officer will liaise with families, coaches, managers, HCSPs and public health authorities to assist in contact tracing, if required.
 - president@northshoregirlshockey.com
- Please review the following Covid-19 Illness Policy for self assessment, illness reporting, doctor's notes and self isolation requirements.
 - The Policy follows the rules and regulations of our arenas, which comply with public health requirements
 - The Policy is subject to change as a result of new information, guidelines, and/or local, provincial, or federal mandates

Covid-19 Illness Policy

- Players, families, coaches, and volunteers must remain diligent in following public health instructions during the upcoming season. In this policy, “Team member” includes player, volunteer, coach, and parent/spectator.
- Team members must complete a personal health check or self assessment before coming to practices or games. Team members must not come to practices or games if they are feeling unwell or anyone in their household is feeling unwell.
- Team members must inform the coach, team manager, or HCSP immediately if they feel any symptoms of Covid-19 and must remain at home and contact Health Link BC at 8-1-1 or a doctor for further guidance.
- Team members who begin to feel sick at a practice or game must inform the coach, team manager, or HCSP immediately and go home and contact Health Link BC at 8-1-1 or a doctor for further guidance.
- Team members awaiting the results of a Covid-19 test must self-isolate for at least 14 days before attending a practice or game.
- Team members who have reported symptoms to a coach, team manager, or HCSP, have left practice or a game due to symptoms, or who test positive for Covid-19, are not permitted at practices or games without a doctor’s note.
- Team members who test positive for Covid-19 must report this information to the Avalanche Covid-19 Communications Officer.
- Coaches, team managers, and HCSPs must report to the Avalanche Covid-19 Communications Officer if they have been informed by a Team Member of symptoms of Covid-19 or if a Team Member has left a practice or game due to symptoms of Covid-19.
- Team members who have been in close contact with someone who is experiencing symptoms of Covid-19, awaiting the results of a Covid-19 test, or has tested positive for Covid-19, must self-isolate for at least 14 days before attending practices or games.
- Team members who have travelled outside of Canada must self-isolate for 14 days before attending a practice or game.

Resources

- The NSFIHA will continue to following the advice of public health officials

Key Considerations

- We are currently in the “Transition Measures” stage, as defined by ViaSport
- ViaSport may soon recommend we move to the "Progressively Loosen" stage
- Our plan will adjust accordingly and is subject to interpretation of ViaSport recommendations as well as the rules and regulations of our key partners:
 - Canlan Ice Sports
 - Harry Jerome Arena
 - Karen Magnussen Arena
 - West Vancouver Arena
- All plans are subject to change as a result of new information, guidelines, and/or local, provincial, or federal mandates

- The risk of contracting Covid-19 at any defined stage or phase of activity is unknown.
- We cannot eliminate risk we do not fully understand, but we can work with our partners and families to take precautions based on the available information.
- We acknowledge that participants are accepting a level of risk.
 - We recognize that players, families, volunteers and coaches have family, school and work factors to consider and that those factors may affect their assessment and acceptance of risk.
- Although our arenas continue to open up and we are seeing models for modified games, which may or may not be possible this season, we cannot at this time rule out a step back to the “Strictest Controls” stage.

What does this mean for the 2020-21 season?

- The focus will be on player skill development, until at least we move into the next stage and modified games are permitted (e.g., 3on3, 4on4, continuous play, etc.).
- Participants will be required to read and sign a detailed participant agreement prior to the start of the season.
- Participants must abide by the rules and regulations of the specified arenas as well as NSFIHA policies and procedures, including but not limited to:
 - Not coming to the rink when you or anyone you have had close contact with exhibits any cold or flu like symptoms
 - Completing the required TeamSnap check in and health assessment process prior to attending all on and off ice sessions
 - Arriving at the rink ready to participate (recommend in full gear) – hands should be washed and/or sanitized
 - Avoiding physical contact with others – no hugs, hand shakes, high fives, etc.
 - Limiting spectators and time spent in arenas before and after designated ice times

What does it mean for volunteers and coaches?

- Coaches and the development coordinator will design on and off ice sessions that promote physical distancing and emphasize individual skill development.
- Participants will be required to practice physical distancing when possible.
 - Participants that fail to follow the instructions of arena personnel, coaches and volunteer will be required to leave the area.
- All approved coaches, on ice helpers, and volunteers will be required to wear a non-medical mask or face shield when physical distancing cannot be maintained (e.g., on the bench, in the room).
- In the event that first aid is required to be administered at a practice or game, all persons attending the injured player must first put on a mask and gloves.
- Coaches and volunteers may be required to work with arena staff to ensure high touch areas are disinfected after ice sessions.

What does it mean for players and families?

- Participants will be required to arrive and use the arena facilities (including the lobby, entrance and parking lot) as per the specified arena's rules and regulations. In addition:
 - We recommended players arrive dressed (in full gear) – particularly younger players requiring assistance.
 - We strongly recommend that anyone accompanying a player into the arena wear a non-medical mask or face shield.
- In addition to health questionnaires required by the specified facility, participants will be required to complete a check-in and health assessment via TeamSnap prior to all on and off ice sessions.
 - Players will not be allowed to enter the arena if not confirmed on TeamSnap or they (their parent/guardian) cannot demonstrate they have completed the TeamSnap health assessment.
- At this time players are not required to purchase and wear a full face shield, but we do encourage participants (players, on ice volunteers and coaches) to consider this option.

What does it mean for players and parents?

- Proper hygiene is essential this season
 - Every player must have their own marked water bottle – players will not be permitted on the ice without their own water bottle.
 - Absolutely no sharing of water, food, or equipment.
 - Players, parents, volunteers, and coaches should regularly wash their hands and may be required to use hand sanitizer prior to entering the arenas.
 - We also strongly recommend that participants regularly wash and sanitize their equipment.
 - Spitting and blowing the nose without tissue are absolutely forbidden.

Pre-season meetings and information

- Prior to the start of all on-ice activities, you will hear from your team manager regarding current arena specific rules and regulations, including the following:
 - Facility requirements regarding access and use;
 - Restrictions on number of people allowed in public areas;
 - Areas that may not be accessible (e.g. main lobby, dressing rooms, viewing areas, washrooms);
 - If dressing rooms are not available, whether there will be a common area to put on skates, with marked physical distancing seating;
 - Cleaning processes in the facility, including frequency of disinfecting;
 - General facility rules specific to practicing good hygiene; and
 - Ice markings or other visible lay-outs in the building for physical distancing.
- As the situation evolves and new information becomes available, we will continue to update you on what it may mean for Avalanche hockey programming.

Refund Policy

- We understand families may have different comfort levels for the risks associated with returning to the arena and each family will need to make an informed decision about participating.
- Our regular refund policy remains in place. However, should the season be cancelled or shortened, refunds will be issued on a pro-rated basis.
 - We will not be able to refund NSFIHA incurred expenses (e.g., player socks, practice and safety equipment).
- Please consult the Avalanche registration page for details on registration refunds.
- Thank-you for your patience as we navigate these uncertain times. For the upcoming hockey season, our lives won't be back to the way they were before Covid-19 but we are now able to get back to the game we love, albeit in a modified way.
